DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 10, 13 and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Saito et al. (US 5,904,593).

Regarding claim 10, Saito et al., fig. 1-7, discloses an electrical connector 26 comprising a housing 28 having a plurality of terminal accommodating holes 34, 35 for accommodating a plurality of connecting terminals 32 connected to distal ends of electric wires 86 and a plurality of locking arms 44, 46 each of which is engaged with a respective one of the connecting terminals not to remove backwardly, and a front holder 30 which is engaged with a front portion of the housing and includes a plurality of terminal inserting holes 80, 82 through which cooperating connecting terminals (not shown) are to be inserted and a plurality of arm pushing portions 68, 70 each of which is urged against a respective one of the locking arms to enhance a locking force of the locking arms, wherein the front holder has formed therein a plurality of arm operating holes 76, 78 through each of which a jig for operating the locking arms is to be inserted; the front holder is movable with respect to the housing in a direction along an axial line between the terminal inserting holes and the arm operating holes corresponding to a first position and a second position; in the first position (full locking, fig. 5) of the front holder, the plurality of locking arms are pushed toward connecting terminals and the plurality of terminal inserting holes are aligned with the plurality of connecting terminals such that an electrical connection between the connecting terminals and cooperating electrical terminals is attained by engaging a cooperating housing (not shown); and in the second position (partial locking, fig. 7) of the front holder, the plurality of terminal inserting holes are shifted out of the axial lines of the connecting terminals installed within the housing, the plurality of arm operating holes are aligned with the plurality of locking arms, a locking operation of a locking arm is released by inserting the jig into an arm operating hole and a connecting terminal can be removed from a terminal accommodating hole (column 6, lines 13-27).

Regarding claim 13, Nimura et al. discloses the front holder has formed therein a plurality of terminal pushing portions which push the connecting terminals backward to engage the plurality of locking arms with the plurality of connecting terminals in the axial direction without play when the front holder is moved from the second position into the first position.

Regarding claim 15, Saito et al. discloses the electrical connector wherein in the first position, the front holder is engaged with the housing by means of a locking member.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claim 14 objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim 10, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The following is a statement of reason for the indication of allowable subject matter: The Prior Art does not disclose the terminal pushing portions includes an inclined portions by means of which each of the connecting terminals is gradually pushed backward.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 10, 13 and 15 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within

Art Unit: 2839

TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
